Let us not be discouraged despite historical repetition of enrollment decline from calls to the armed service.

Let us not allow the accomplishments of Dr. Taylor to be in vain and our bright hopes for progress and achievement wane.

Let us look forward to the choice of a president who will continue the pioneer steps of Dr. Taylor in making the citizens conscious of the vital role our University plays in Louisville.

Let us hope our new president will be aware of our desire for academic opportunity and will not lose sight of our need for self-expression in group activities in his plan of administration.

PRESIDENT

Dr. John W. Taylor, President of the University of Louisville since May 1947, resigned December 31, 1950 to become Deputy Director General of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization with the headquarters in Paris, France.

During Dr. Taylor's administration, a $750,000 rehabilitation fund raising campaign was successfully completed. During this time, also, the University of Louisville became the first southern university to admit Negro students to the professional schools. Among his other accomplishments have been the establishment of the "Neighborhood Colleges" and the inauguration of radio assisted correspondence work.

The University of Louisville Board of Trustees named Eli H. Brown, III, prominent local attorney and Chairman of the Board of Trustees, as acting president.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

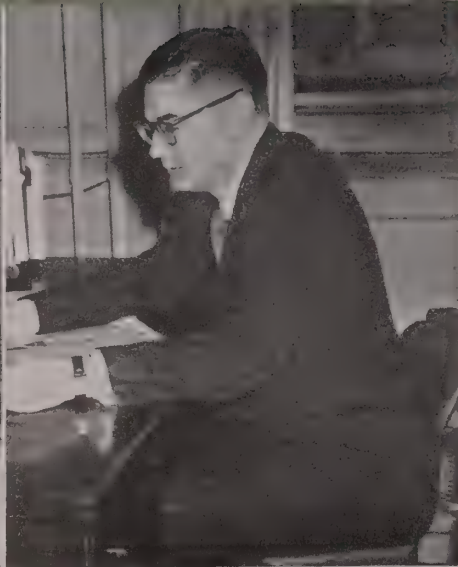

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES of the University of Louisville consists of ten members selected for ten year terms. Members are nominated by the Mayor of the City of Louisville and are approved by the Board of Aldermen. In addition to regular monthly meetings the Board meets on various special occasions.

THE YEAR 1951

HIGHLIGHTED BY THE FIRE which eliminated the Student Union Building as the center of student activities, the school year, 1950-1951, opened with a brisk and somewhat carefree anticipation of studies, sports, and campus life. As June approached, this attitude had developed into a mature outlook on a world situation which demanded everyone's contribution in order to maintain peace. To see how the year progressed, let's turn the page and enjoy this pictorial depiction of THE YEAR 1951 . . .

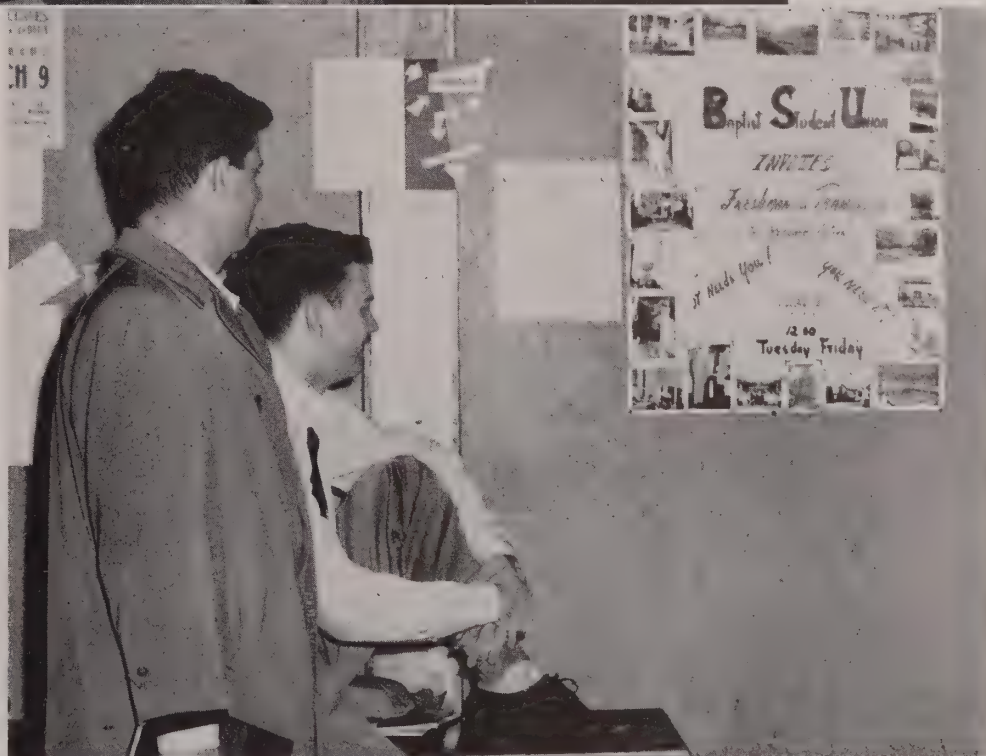

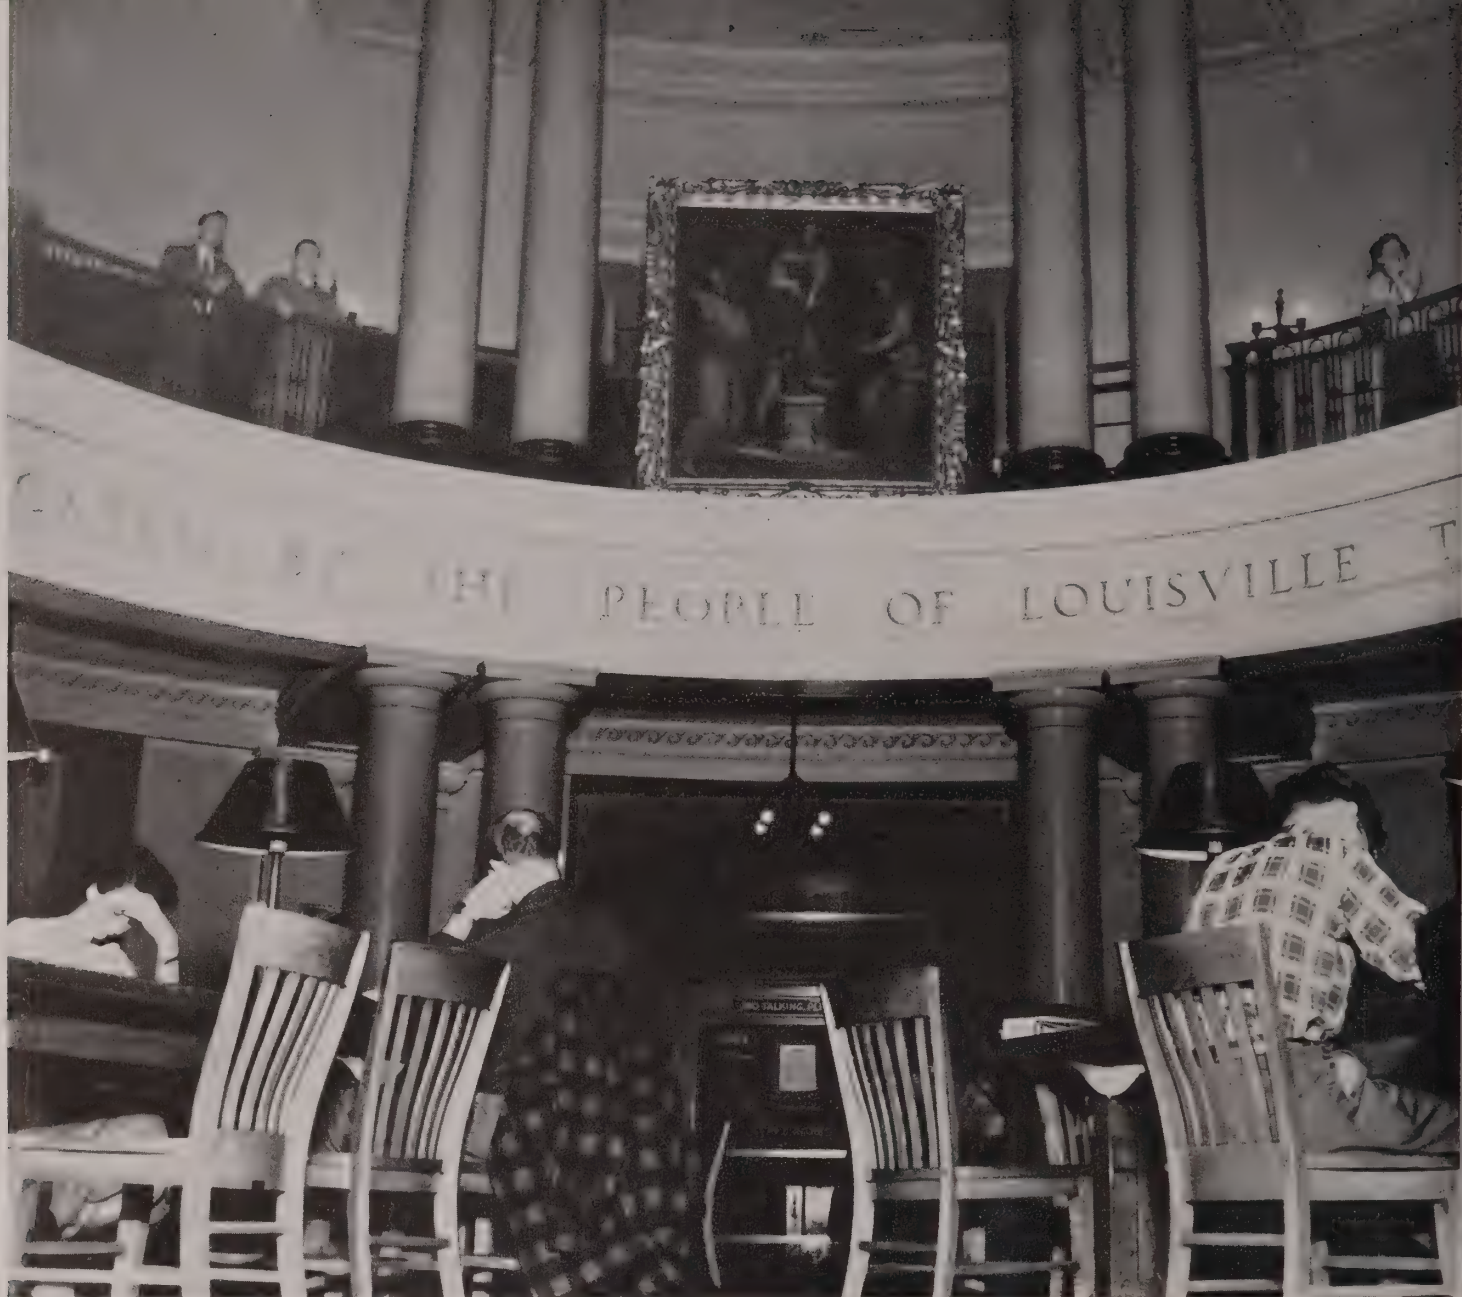

Registration: These little white cards are only the beginning.

REGISTRATION, accompanied by the grumbling and groaning of a foot-weary and hand-cramped student body, presented itself with its long white cards and endless, immovable lines directed toward the Cashiers' windows. As the ordeal drew to a close, students breathed a sigh of relief, thankful that it only happened twice a year.

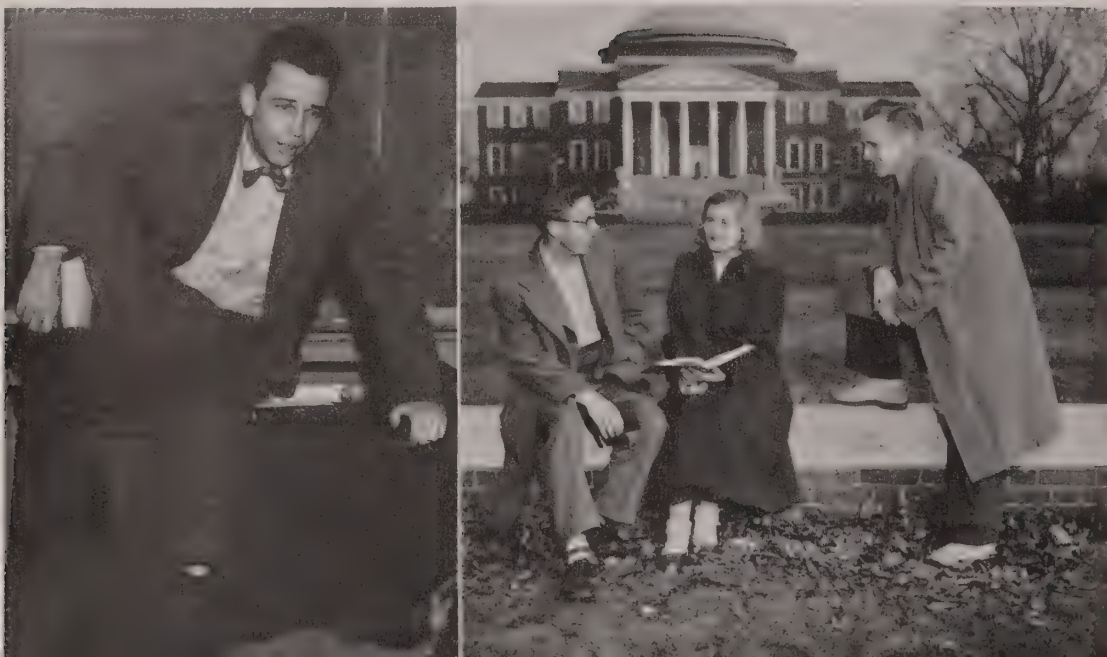

IN THE BOOKSTORE the absolute necessities of a higher education ranging from pencils to philosophy texts were purchased. As the registering student drifted away with his load of books to wait for the beginning of classes scheduled for the next day, he could not overlook the dramatic appeals issued by the colorful posters surrounding him.

Some students begin early to think of mid terms.

OF REGISTRATION and first classes receded. Lectures became more interesting and assignments became more involved. Students discovered that the library's quiet atmosphere suited the studying which was necessary for the understanding of college commitments. Quietly the campus assumed the orderly aspect of a college at work.

The Thinker ponders over visiting high school seniors.

I
N THE FALL high school seniors were invited to visit the University and discover the part it was to play in their future. Short talks by administrators, a tour of the campus, a free lunch, and an afternoon dance introduced the high schoolers to college life. The Thinker was a premonition of how future nights at home might be spent.

Election Day leaves students, campus, and campaign manager exhausted.

THE NAILING OF POSTERS announced the coming of Election Day. At no other time during the year did the school spirit of campus organizations reach such a peak. Politician's handshakes and free lemonade provided a pleasant incentive to the proletariat, while exhausted campaign managers testified to the work required to put a candidate across.

No room inside!

AT THE FRINGES of the campus, sorority and fraternity houses were sounding with the patter of pledges' feet as these hopeful creatures trotted about answering all phone calls, and learning the finer points of housecleaning. Parties and open houses were given so that these pledges could see and be seen. The immediate object, however, was not to get mobbed by the crowd that came.

In among the coats.

*Top—Four coffees! Two with and two without.

ACTIVITIES IN AND AROUND the Student Union Building were in a continual whirl beginning at eight o'clock in the morning and continuing throughout the day. Whether it was a cup of coffee, a hurried lunch, or a chance to discuss politics, the SUB was the place to go. Students will always remember the SUB as the center of campus activities.

Miss Homecoming, Lucy Berning, Sigma Kappa.

Top—Homecoming bonfire. School spirit was blazing.

Middle—Tau Kappa Epsilon received the house decorations trophy with its marquee.

Top—Pi Beta Phi's "Let's Beat the Dukes" won first honors among the women's organizations.

Center—Kappa Delta's bees placed second.

Bottom—The silvered knights at the Phi Kappa Tau House took second place in the men's division.

DISPLAYING A UNIQUE IMAGINATION backed by back-breaking efforts, social organizations on the campus once more strove to win the coveted cup awarded to the best decorated house. Members stayed up all night, building the props and painting the decorations and often themselves, too. But Homecoming's enthusiastic spirit compensated for the hours of labor involved in preparation for this important occasion.

Top—Chi O froze out all other competition to come in first in the women's division.

Center—The Sigma Kappas rode their merry-go-round to second honors.

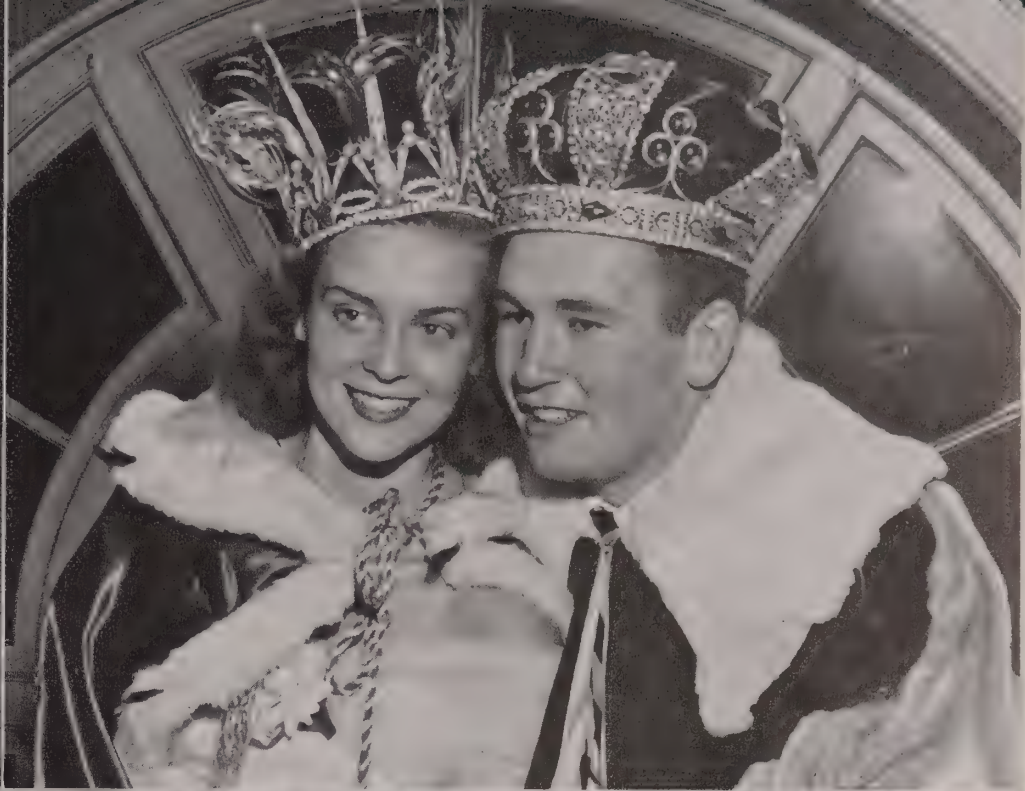

Lower Left—The band heralded the approach of the festive floats.

Top—The judges wait for the next one.

Lower Middle—This topsy-turvy situation won for the Wandering Greeks the sought after trophy.

Lower Right—Lambda Chis were rated second place.

IT SEEMS THAT THE COLOR and imagination from the fraternity and sorority houses had suddenly been put on wheels when the Homecoming Parade appeared on Broadway as the final prelude to the oncoming encounter with Duquesne University.

The anticipated climax of Homecoming, the football battle with Duquesne.

The Homecoming Queen and the Captain of the football team were crowned in royal splendor at the dance after the game.

HOMECOMING'S CLIMAX, the football battle between the fighting Cardinals and the Dukes of Duquesne University, created a thrilling and spectacular event which was cheered to the finish by over three thousand spectators. Fighting the powerful Dukes to a fourth quarter tie, the Cardinals lost on a pass interception, the final score being 20-14. Afterwards, the Homecoming Dance, reigned over by Queen Lucy Berning and Chuck Asher, captain of the football team, provided a happy and successful conclusion to a memorable occasion.

While the orchestra takes an intermission.

WEEKENDS WERE ALWAYS FULL. The weeks were busy in preparing for the coming Friday and Saturday or recovering from the past ones. Formal dances, picnics, minstrel shows, plays, costume parties, square dances, and just plain ordinary dates at KT's made up the fast moving social agenda of U. of L.'s students.

Honor your partner!

APO's end men in action.

Free cookies and lemonade certainly do attract a crowd.

The Cardinals in action against Tampa.

MANY NIGHTS WERE SPENT at the Armory cheering for the U. of L. Cardinals. The end of the season found students with a rather punched and worn ID card and the Cardinals with a long line of wins. Heart and soul augmented skill and courage as the Cards fought their way to the goal of the first twenty teams of the nation.

HERE ON OUR OWN CAMPUS, the Playhouse, with its Little Theatre productions directed by "Pop" Martin, was continuing to develop Community interest in the high quality stage productions which have delighted local theatre goers for years. (Right) members of the cast of "Goodby, My Fancy" consult over costuming problems.

INTERNATIONAL activity at the University was advanced last summer when ten U. of L.'s students went to Europe to help create better understanding between foreign nations and ourselves by working in a British Harvest Camp.

AND THEIR COURT were presented at the Annual Thoroughbred Coronation Ball. Norma Ridgway, Chairman of the Dance, introduced the members of the Court as they stepped from the pages of a huge replica of the 1951 Thoroughbred. In the midst of flowers and spotlights, Mr. and Miss Thoroughbred walked through the crowd on a white runway to take their place as King and Queen of the Yearbook. Dorothy Bridgwater, Editor of the 1951 Thoroughbred, officially crowned them and presented them each with a large trophy in behalf of the Thoroughbred Staff.

The Thoroughbred Staff wishes Edith and Jim a happy year as they reign as Mr. and Miss Thoroughbred of 1951.

MISS THOROUGHbred's COURT

And now you know!

Leaving so soon? ? ?

After the ball was over!

THE WORLD SITUATION became more ominous as the days, weeks and months passed. Students began to think more keenly of their days at the University, which might be limited by a possible world conflict. "College Days" became revered words: words which expressed the longings and hopes of those who might be called to fight another war. To all, the lines of the Alma Mater came sharply to mind: "Our thoughts for years to come will be of thee our U. of L."

THE END OF THE FALL semester drew everyone's attention to the unavoidable . . . final exams. Lamps burned brightly far into the night as notes and texts received a final going over in preparation for the tense days ahead.

However, the final exam period wasn't the only obstacle to be passed during the closing days of the semester. Snowfalls, frequent and heavy, cancelled the activities of many students, but to others provided a rare background for participation in winter sports.

The night before finals.

Sno' wonder they had fun.

WHEN SPRING ARRIVED, she brought with her new leaves and blossoms, as well as a new epidemic of Spring Fever. As carnival time approached, however, Spring Fever was temporarily forgotten as hammers and saws and hard work erected booths in preparation for the University's newest yearly event. Other afternoons were spent lazily enjoying the new greenness of campus.

Right: Pretty co-eds wave an excited proclamation that Spring has truly arrived.

Third row—Kappa Alpha Rose - Nancye Long, Sigma Kappa; Phi Kappa Tau Dream Girl - Virginia Buskirk, Sigma Kappa; Lambda Chi Alpha Sweetheart - Ann Jones, Sigma Kappa.

THE Campus Sweethearts, selected by the students themselves, revealed charm and beauty as they graced the most delightful and impressive social occasions of the year.

GRADUATION, the grand finale of the University year, will fill everyone with enthusiasm and anticipation of one life ending and another beginning. Lectures and studies will be replaced by new responsibilities as students face the world with a knowledge of its reality and the tools to confront it successfully.

ATHLETICS

Dean Walker mournfully leads the gloomy funeral procession for the old dead U. of L. school spirit. In the black casket being carried to its final resting place, lay its charred and scorched remains. At the Homecoming Bon Fire a new vibrant school enthusiasm was created from the ashes of the departed one. Inspired with the new born loyalty and zeal the students cheered the Cardinals to victory after victory.

Miami Return

THE Cardinals rose to their best effort of the season in tying University of Miami, Florida. The student body plus Louisville fans were quick to give the team the applause it had earned. The players were as thrilled by the reception as the fans were by the game. The Miami team acknowledged the performance of the Cardinals by presenting a banner to acting captain Tom Lucia.

F OOTBALL

The Louisville offensive was basically a ground advance. The ball carrying leaders were burly, bruising Jim Williams, quick, elusive Tom Lucia and dependable, hard hitting Babe Ray. These boys were one, two, three in the Louisville offensive show with Jim showing the way by gaining 693 yards.

The Cardinal aerial department used the talented arms of three passers. Bill Karns, John Shelton and Jack Browning alternated in the signal calling post. Their favorite targets were the offensive ends, Gene Sartini and Clarence "Goofy" Smith.

The defensive platoon had its great moments too, heralded by the great Miami showing. Chunky Chuck Asher was the head man of the defensive slate, although able help came from such line stalwarts as end, Bob Bauer, and linebackers, Kenny Day and Red Wiening.

With the great majority of the Cardinal gridmen returning, the season ahead finds a bright outlook for the advancing tides of Louisville football.

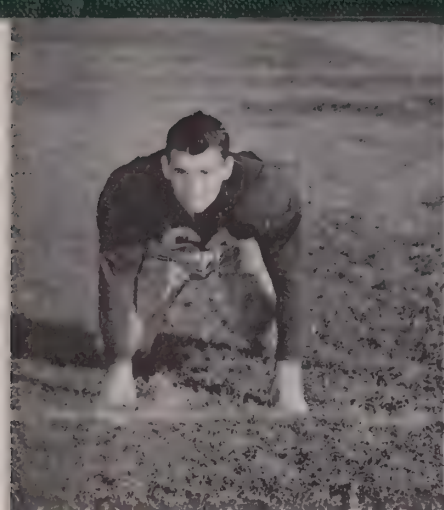

The University of Louisville football season was highlighted one October night in Miami, Florida. A completely underestimated Cardinal Eleven took the Orange Bowl turf to shock the highly touted undefeated Miami Hurricanes to a 13-13 tie.

Though that fall night the Cardinals played their finest brand of football, other days found them also putting on creditable performances. The season showed only a mediocre record of three wins, six losses and the Miami tie, but the close one-touchdown losses to Cincinnati, Duquesne and Washington and Lee illustrated the advancing tides of Redbird football.

Coach Camp with his two able assistants made quite a splash in the national football picture with his well planned and well played season. At the expense of not having top-heavy scores to post in the record book, he has aroused national and local interest to a point that will attract major teams.

The newest additions to the coaching staff are two of Coach Camp's proteges, Frank Gitschier and Joe Trabue. Gitschier and Trabue both

SEASON RECORD

BASKETBALL

One January night Peck Hickman's cagers reached the climax of an uphill season drive. At the Armory the Redbirds attained a national ranking of 14th by dumping the North Carolina State Wolfpack 86-70. Hickman had his lads at a peak of their ability and the Birds displayed some of the finest basketball ever put on by a Louisville quintet.

Other season highlights found the Belknap Campus cagers leading such powers as Seton Hall, Toledo, Xavier, William and Mary, Georgia Tech, and Tennessee. The Cards won 18 of the first 20 but cooled at the season's end to wind up with a 19-6 mark.

This season's record earned Louisville a bid to the N.C.A.A. tournament at Raleigh, N. C. The Cardinal cagers (in the opening round) met the Number One of the country, the big blue of Kentucky. The scrapping Redbirds played the Wildcats basket for basket for 35 of the 40 minutes. At this point Louisville was on top 68-64, but the Birds tired and Kentucky's reserve strength told as the Cats came on to win a 79-68 decision.

Peck Hickman
Basketball Coach

John Dromo
Assistant Basketball Coach

In his seventh season as Louisville coach portly, jovial Peck Hickman continued his successful ways. This time his Cards won 19 of 25 to run Peck's record to 143 while dropping but 46.

Mr. Hickman has earned praise of the press, fans, and his players, in continuing Louisville's rise as a power in basketball.

John Dromo is Peck's right hand man. Mr. Dromo coached the Frosh cagers to a brilliant 22 and 1 mark in addition to his work as head scout and assistant coach of the varsity.

CARDINALS '50-'51

First row—Managers—Tommy Bryant, Harold Metcalf.

Second row—Ted Search, Roy Rubin, Bob Wellman, Bob Naber, Leon Ford, Bill Sullivan.

Third row—Coach Hickman, Dick Robison, Bob Lochmueller, Wayne Laribee, Bob Dunbar, Lum Edwards, Bob Brown.

The Cardinal basketball fortunes were led by the tall, talented Bob Lochmueller. Big Bob hit an amazing 41% of his shots in amassing a 19 point average. As a rebounder Lock has no peer in the annals of Louisville hardwood history.

Running opposite Lockmueller at the other forward post was Bob "The Goose Gets Loose" Brown. Truly the Goose did get loose as the six foot three inch Brown ran up 375 points his junior year. Goose shot and hit from all over the floor and earned Hickman's praise as "our best shot."

Manning the pivot post was chunky Dick Robison. Robby often moved his bulky six foot four inch frame under the boards to block out opposing players so that highly effective rebounders like Lockmueller and Naber could move in to grab the ball. Robby's scoring came from tip-ins and he is remembered for his "sweet" hook shots.

At the guards were Bob Naber and Bill Sullivan. Burly Bob was an excellent rebounder and possessed a fine one hand push shot. Cardinal fans will remember his harrying defensive tactics the night he held All-American Sammy Ranzino to 4 points.

In little Bill Sullivan the cards had their bit of pep and fight. Sully, who used a two hand set shot to fine advantage, was the surprise success of the Card squad. Bill moved from a bench warmer to a starting position his sophomore year.

The Ace Card second men were Lum Edwards, Roy Rubin and Wayne Larabee.

In "Country Lum" Edwards the Cards had the only senior on the squad. Fan's cheers of "We want Lum" illustrated the popular effect that the St. Louis boy had with Cardinal boosters.

Roy Rubin, who often spelled the guards, hailed from Long Island, New York. Left handed Roy often befuddled opposition with his slight of hand passes and "wrong" hand shots.

Big, blond Stretch Larrabee came along fast during the season. Often when Stretch would miss a shot, groans from the fans would come, but big Stretch actually had the best shot percentage on the squad, 42%. He frequently used his lean gangling six foot seven inch frame to excellent advantage under the boards.

In the rough and tumble under the Louisville board, Bob Lochmueller reaches up to tip in another. The Cards defeated Tampa University 87-74.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

The freshman wound up the cage season with a great record of 21 and 1. By defeating Dayton handily in a return tilt the first year men avenged the only blot on their record. The Ohioans had taken the Cards in a questionable short game in the Northern city. The frosh were a tremendous scoring outfit and once netted 124 points in single encounter.

Chuck Noble, Cortland Cox, Frank Lentz, Bob Davis, and Frank Powell crowned the star-studded freshman team. Along with towering Bob Peterson all the yearlings promise a strengthened varsity squad for '51-'52 season.

Coach "Jolly" John Heldman piloted his Cardinals to an eight and five season this year. This gives our genial coach an over-all record of 127 wins and 43 losses.

Outstanding members of the Club were co-captains Jim Marshall and Kenny Reeves, Pitchers Leo Meyer, Carl Raible, and Larry Powers, and hitters Don Wilding and Bill Mitchem.

The team had a batting average of .268 and a fielding average of .904, both of which were better than the over-all average of their opponents.

Just a glance at the track record does not give the full significance of the season. The team won the track events in all eight matches. This was highlighted by a 1:57.3 in the half mile by Herb Kebschull and a 50 second quarter mile by Chuck Jett.

The cross country team had a short but successful season. In five meets they won over Hanover, Washington U. of St. Louis, Berea and lost only to Butler. They finished fourth in the annual Shamrock meet.

A very fine golf team with only one senior on the squad won seven matches and lost one. The victories were over Kentucky, Centre, Xavier twice, Cincinnati twice, and Marshall. The defeat came from Marshall in a very close contest. Lettermen are Lucien Kingsolving, graduating senior, Fred Burton, Bob Haag, Brown Cullen, Ches McCall and Bob Kirchner.

Athol Taylor and C. W. Swink were the coaches and Ed Lowry was manager.

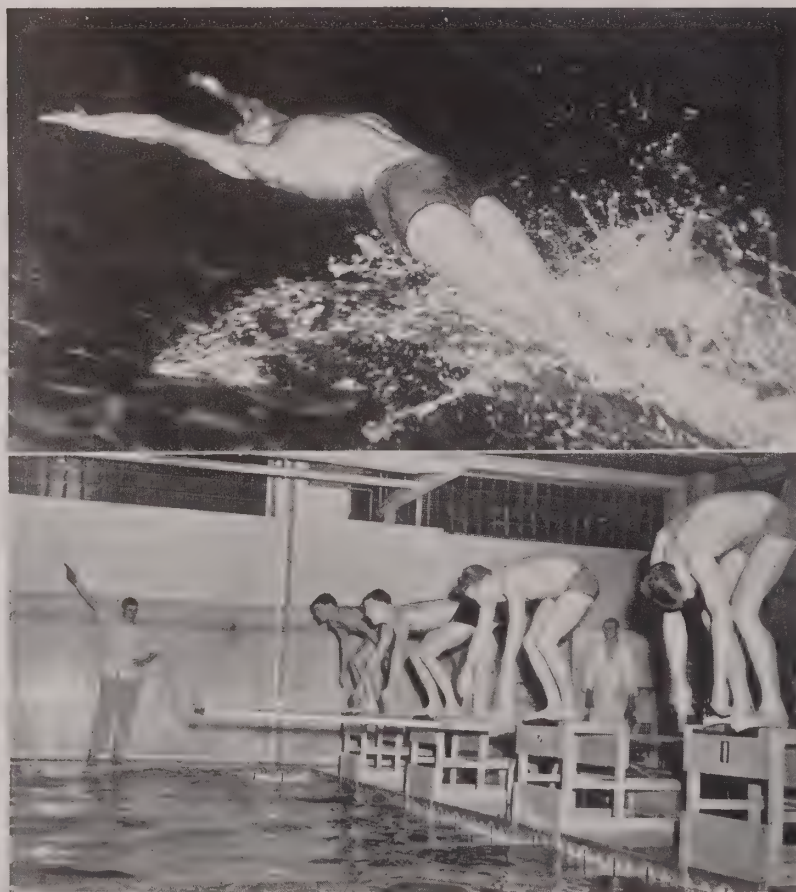

First row—Dick Burman, Bill Wier, Louis Kissel, Jim Smith, Bud Bitzer, Bill Mitchell

Experiencing a successful year, the swimming team has posted enough wins to justify its being proclaimed the unofficial champs of Kentucky. Captain and high scorer for the team was Frank Reynolds, who during his college career lost only one race and came in first in all the others. The team has an invitation to the midwestern meet next year at Illinois.

In the fourteen meets already completed, eight wins, five losses, and one tie have been registered. The wins were over Pennsylvania State College, San Jose College, U. of Colorado, U. of Miami, Fla., U. of Kentucky, Fordham U., U. of Idaho, Michigan State. The losses were to U. of Connecticut, U. S. Coast Guard Academy, Stanford, U. of Denver, U. of Maryland, Ohio State. Xavier held the team to a tie in a well shot contest.

Lt. Colonel James Blackwell and Sgt. George Murray, coaches, have scheduled seven more meets to fill out the remainder of the season which is the longest of U. of L. sports—from October to April.

ACTIVITIES

The wheel, or what's known as the "well rounded college student," is easily recognized on campus. He wields the gavel at innumerable meetings, adds to the clamor of student council elections with his own brand of campaigning, works f r a n t i c and hectic nights to meet deadlines, hammers madly and paints splashily for Homecoming floats and Carnival booths, and suffers through the pressure of weeks of practice with his organization for the annual Fryberger Sing. Yet, somehow he finds time to keep a point standing high enough to win the key of a coveted honorary organization to add to his already heavy key chain.

UNIVERSITY STUDENT COUNCIL COMMISSIONS

The purpose of the University Student Council is to promote cooperation between students and faculty; to form a strong bond among the students of the University; and to balance the academic life of the students by the promotion of extracurricular activities within the University.

The Council consists of the presidents and vice-presidents of the Student Councils of the various schools in addition to the two elected representatives from each school and eight members-at-large who can be elected by popular vote of the students from all the schools of the University.

Informality of the sessions of Leadership Camp, 1950, was evidenced by sport coats and saddles.

Mary Lee Jones, Sigma Kappa and Jim Almand, Lambda Chi Alpha, directors, glow over the cups won by their respective organizations in the 1950 Fryberger Sing. Chi Omega Sorority and Delta Upsilon Fraternity won second place honors.

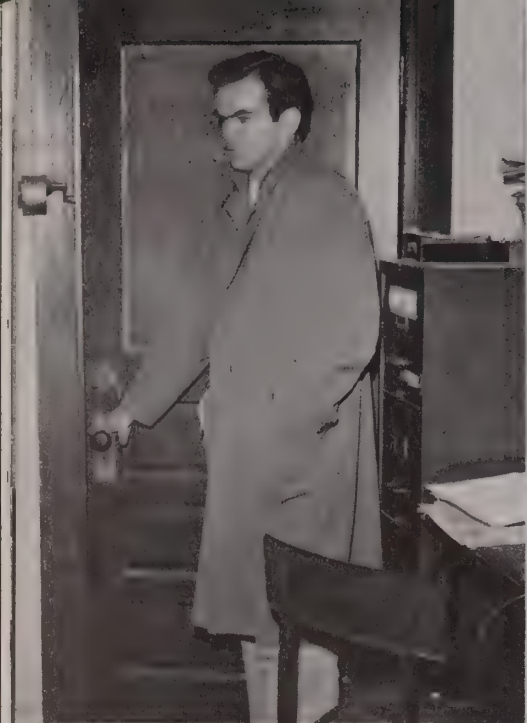

Pete DeWilde, former manager of the Student Union Building, displays the ruins of what once was the center of student activities.

UNIVERSITY STUDENT COUNCIL PROJECTS

Leadership Camp, held in the fall, is the first project of the U.S.C. each year. Members of the Council, presidents of active campus organizations, and faculty members meet together to discuss campus problems and policies for the approaching year. Plans were laid for the year 1951 at Valley Camp, Pewee Valley, Kentucky, under the leadership of Bill Kranz, president of U.S.C. On the agenda was the discussion of projects of the Council, such as the N.S.A. Commission's Faculty Rating System, the Progress Commission's calendar for the Student Directory, initiated successfully in 1950, the Barbershop Quartet Contest, which celebrated its third birthday this year, and Fryberger Sing, an annual event. Plans centering around the Student Union Building, for whose management the S.U.B. Commission was responsible, and policies the editorial staffs had for their respective publications were also studied.

As the SUB burned, four months work, worry, and fret of the 1951 Thoroughbred Staff became nothing but scorched and ashen scraps of paper and pictures. Too stubborn to quit, the staff had made plans twelve hours after the fire to put out the Thoroughbred a second time. Numerous phone calls, a trip to Indianapolis to confer with the engravers and printers, prolonged investigations of available dark corners on campus for a photographers' dark room, the goodwill of the CARDINAL in letting the Thoroughbred move in with them out of the cold snow, and long hours put in day and night resulted in this 1951 THOROUGHbred. Although the staff underwent a harried and hurried two months, they were still able to smile at the camera for their staff pictures.

AIR FORCE RESERVE

The Corps of Cadets of the Air Force Reserve found itself in a state of continual expansion this year. The student personnel increased from fifty-six to one hundred ninety-seven, and the teaching staff from four to seven. New blue uniforms for advanced students, a corps newspaper, and a radio station operating in conjunction with communications studies also marked the forward advance.

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

The techniques of a good cook are learned by Home Ec minded co-eds on campus in the well-equipped Home Economics Department.

Many students, including Pre-Med majors, spend numerous hours in labs for courses such as this Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy, studying the life processes and anatomy of creatures in the animal kingdom from the lamprey eels to the primates, better known as man.

Pointers in Creative Art are given in one of the many courses taught at the University of Louisville Art Center.

DENTAL SCHOOL

Throughout its history the Dental School has been responsible for restoring and maintaining oral health for thousands of patients in its modern clinic. Recently, the school has instituted a program to provide the same care to many indigent children of the Louisville Area. This service is sponsored by the Louisville District Dental Society in Cooperation with the Louisville and Jefferson County Health Department. Under the program the clinic operates one night each week. Not only do the children receive treatment, but also their parents are instructed in the proper care of the mouth. The University of Louisville School of Dentistry is the first school to begin such a community service.

DR. RAYMOND E. MYERS

Dr. Raymond E. Myers became Dean of the School of Dentistry in 1945. He received his D.D.S. degree and his B.S. degree from the University of Louisville. He is a Fellow of the American College of Dentists, a member of Omicron Kappa Upsilon, national dental scholastic fraternity, Phi Kappa Phi, Omicron Delta Kappa, the International Association for Dental Research, and many other professional and social organizations.

During the summer of 1949, under the sponsorship of the American College of Dentists, Dr. Myers spent a month in England and Scotland making a survey of the National Health service of Great Britain and has related his observations to both dental and medical societies in practically every area of the United States.

S CHOOL OF DENTISTRY

The School of Dentistry was organized in 1886 as the Louisville College of Dentistry and was affiliated with Central University of Richmond, Kentucky. It was originally housed jointly with the Hospital College of Medicine but progress necessitated the erection of a new building at Brook and Broadway, the present location of the School. In 1918, the School of Dentistry was reorganized as a school of the University of Louisville and has since been on an upward grade in the selection of curriculum and maintenance of its modern clinic and laboratories. It is fully accredited by the Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association.

Delta Sigma Delta Fraternity was founded at the University of Michigan November 15, 1882. Epsilon Epsilon Chapter received its charter at the University of Louisville on April 28, 1914. This fraternity was the first Greek letter society to restrict its membership to students in dental schools and practioners of dentistry.

Activities and social functions of Epsilon Epsilon during the year include clinics or guest speakers once each month, an annual dinner in honor of the freshman class, and the yearly Delta Sigma Delta Spring Ball.

Epsilon Epsilon also has an active Auxiliary Chapter composed of wives of fraternity members. During the year the Auxiliary Chapters sponsors such functions as a bingo party and a square dance.

DIVISION OF ADULT EDUCATION

The Division of Adult Education is founded on the belief that education is a process that does not stop with graduation, but continues on through life. It is because the members of the community support this belief that it is possible to offer evening classes in almost every field, making possible s c h o l a s t i c accomplishments which, only a short time ago, were available only to participants in the regular daytime curricula.

Advising and counseling, two of the most indispensable activities of the Administrative Staff.

A ADMINISTRATION

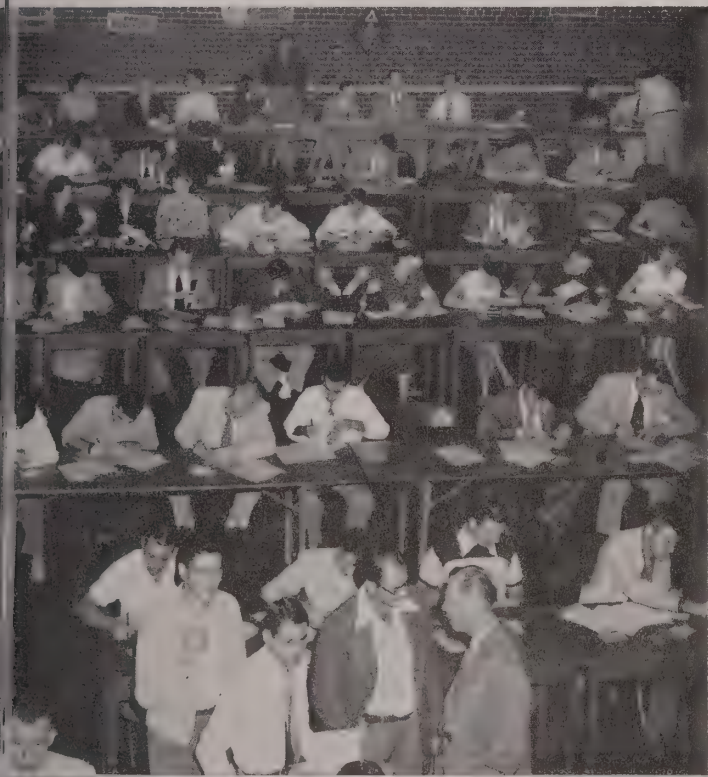

WOODROW M. STRICKLER

Woodrow M. Strickler, Director of the Division of Adult Education, joined the faculty of the University of Louisville in 1938, as a member of the Economics Department. Four years later he was appointed an Associate Professor of Economics and Director of the Department of Cooperative Education. Entering the U.S. Navy in 1943, Mr. Strickler was assigned as District Officer in the 8th Naval District, and later became Assistant Officer in Charge, Educational Services Section, Bureau of Naval Personnel, Washington, D. C. Director Strickler's degrees include a B.S. from Bucknell University and an M.B.A. from the University of Pennsylvania. He enjoys membership in a number of varied organizations which include the Southern Economic Association, Omicron Delta Kappa, Delta Mu Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, the Louisville Lions Club, Advertising Club, Credit Men's Association, Real Estate Board and the Transportation Club.

C ONVOCATION

The D.A.E. Convocations held in December represented another step toward maturity of the student body. The purpose of the meetings was the nomination of members to the Division of Adult Education Student Council Association. This organization originated only last year for the purpose of devising an integrated representative group to act as voice for the student body. Representing the largest division of the university, the D.A.E. Student Council has been instrumental in providing many advantages hitherto available to the day student only. Possibly the most valuable service rendered by the group has been to provide a means of intelligent liaison between the student body and the university administration.

R EGISTRATION

To the uninitiated, this probably looks like chaos. Actually it is organized chaos, a type which descends at the beginning of each term during the process of registration. Faculty advisers and counselors are stationed in strategic locations enabling them to help quickly those in need of aid. Convenient arrangements are made also for checking of schedules and paying of tuition. Even with all these attempts to make the process painless, registration still manages to represent a most worrisome period for students and staff.

R ECREATION AND RELAXATION

D.A.E. extra curricular university activity ranges from quiet evening chatting between classes through entertaining sorority and fraternity dances to taking part in philanthropic projects such as the D.A.E. Christmas Basket Drive.

E DUCATION AND EDIFICATION

Faculty members planning their strategy before facing D.A.E. students in the classrooms.

Diversity of interests is exhibited in the activity of students in classes in every division in the university—from Art and Sociology to Philosophy and Mathematics.

S TUDENT COUNCIL

(Top) During the fall semester of 1948 an echo reverberated around campus for years expressing the need for a D.A.E. student organization became a voice and a reality at once as a result of the formation of the D.A.E. Student Council. Since its inception the Council has strived to serve the needs of D.A.E. students. Among its most noteworthy accomplishments are improvement of some campus facilities, publication of the night school journal, The Owl, sponsorship of the first D.A.E. Christmas basket distribution, assistance in job placement work, sponsorship of dances and finally provision of the impetus for the establishment of the Delta Alpha Epsilon Fraternity and the Sigma Delta Nu Sorority.

T HE OWL

(Bottom) The Owl, a student publication of the Division of Adult Education, is dedicated to the two-fold purpose of serving the student body and making the D.A.E. a more beneficial institution to the community.

It is hoped that The Owl will become the medium through which the various new organizations on campus can acquaint themselves with the students and thereby provide a more well-rounded college program to include social and student activities.

STUDENTS in the University of Louisville Kent School of Social Work have classes which are similar to those of the other schools in the university. Subjects covered include psychiatric and medical information, case work, group work, child welfare and public welfare. In addition to this, however, the students are placed under supervision in various social agencies where they have the opportunity of learning to be case workers by carrying a limited case load.

KEN

KENT SCHOOL STUDENTS are engaged in various social and educational activities. Once a week the students have a business-social meeting. Speakers are invited from various fields of social work for the purpose of providing the students with a better understanding of their work and objectives. On occasions when speakers are not present the students discuss any subject which is pertinent to their work in school. Recently the students organized a curriculum committee to work in conjunction with the faculty members on class procedure and organization.

LAW SCHOOL

"Fiat Justitia Ruat Coelum"

The School of Law, organized in 1846, is the second oldest law school in the South. Boasting one of the best libraries in the South, the Law School continues to grow in position and prominence. As the increasing number of graduates continue to achieve greater success in private and public life, the Law School, proud of its splendid tradition, strives to send forth men worthy of those who have gone before.

Our Dean, Absalom Russell, has been associated with the School of Law since 1938. He became Dean in 1946, and under his guidance the Law School has attained a position of prominence throughout the nation, as well as in Kentucky.

A graduate of Berea and Yale University Law School, Dean Russell was admitted to the Kentucky Bar in 1930, and thereupon spent several years with the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

SCHOOL OF LAW

The incorporation of the Jefferson School of Law and the introduction of evening classes are the outstanding advancements of Law School this year. With similar methods and equal standards the Night Division has been successful in satisfying the needs of many Law students.

The Briefing Service, founded in 1936, marks one of the outstanding achievements of the School of Law of the University of Louisville. This school is the first school in the country to adopt such a plan.

Its functions are to render a research service to members of the Kentucky Bar whose library facilities are inadequate to solve complicated legal problems; to give students a chance to familiarize themselves with pressing and everyday legal problems; and to foster a closer relationship with students and practicing members of the bar.

The briefs are prepared by outstanding senior and junior students of the school. They work in the Law School Library where they have access to materials which are often not available at average local libraries. All work is done without charge.

Vinson Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity seeks to cultivate a closer bond of friendship and to attain a higher and broader culture for its members than is obtained in the regular college course. Vinson Chapter is one of fifty-eight active and thirty-one alumni chapters. Its members are endeavoring to maintain the high standards and ideals that the Fraternity has set for them. Active at the University of Louisville since 1935, Vinson Chapter is proud to number among its alumni some of the most prominent members of the Kentucky State Bar.

PHI ALPHA DELTA

"The Law: It hath honored us, may we honor it."

In September Vinson Chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, playing the role of co-host for the National Phi Alpha Delta Convention, made an impressive entry into an active year. With the opening of the fall semester they were again honored by twenty-eight freshmen choosing to associate themselves with Phi Alpha Delta as pledges of the organization. Then early in the spring a P.A.D. Alumni Chapter was organized in Louisville. Vinson Chapter feels they will continue to prosper with the advice and assistance of the organized "older brothers." The outstanding year was climaxed in Frankfort where the P.A.D.'s of U of L with the Henry Clay Chapter of U of K held a joint Initiation and Banquet. Honored guests were Judges from the Court of Appeals and the Law School Faculty of both universities.

The fraternity extends heartfelt thanks to those who leave and wishes a successful future for those who remain.

MEDICAL SCHOOL

From its formal opening on October 23, 1837, the School of Medicine has been able to point to a record of continuous service in the advancement of medical science.

The degree of Doctor of Medicine conferred by the University of Louisville is recognized by every State Board in the United States for both licensure examinations and reciprocity, and also for licensure examination by the National Examining Board and by the British Conjoint Board.

The School observes with pride the achievements of its alumni, its contributions to medical progress, and its record of community and national service.

The Irvin Abell Memorial Clock was installed in memory of Dr. Irvin Abell, who for many years served the Medical School as Professor of Surgery.

DEAN JAMES MURRAY KINSMAN

Dean Kinsman has been associated with the School of Medicine since 1925 and became Dean in 1949. Dr. Kinsman is a Diplomat of the American Board of Internal Medicine, a Fellow of the American College of Physicians, a member of the American Medical Association, Central Society for Clinical Research, Southern Society of Clinical Research, and American Society of Clinical Investigation. He is an Alpha Kappa Kappa and an Alpha Omega Alpha.

Entrance to the new John Walker Moore Clinic.

In 1922 the governing board of the city and board of trustees of the University of Louisville made an agreement whereby the professional work of Louisville City Hospital was placed entirely under the direction of the School of Medicine. Before this agreement had been made the faculty of the medical school was appointed to serve in the hospital during the school year. All the various services necessary for adequate care of patients and for teaching, together with officers for full time clinical faculty, were housed in this hospital. As time passed similar teaching affiliations have been made with Waverly Hill Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Children's Free Hospital, the Mental Hygiene Clinic, and Nichols Veterans Hospital.

Alpha Omega Alpha the national honorary scholarship society in medicine elects to membership each year students in their third and fourth years who are outstanding in scholarship and character.

It is a non-secret, college medical honorary society, membership to which is based entirely upon scholarship, moral qualification being satisfactory. It was organized at the College of Medicine of the University of Illinois, Chicago, August 25, 1902, and is the only order of its kind in medical schools on this continent.

Its definite mission is to encourage personal honesty and the spirit of medical research. It is not a social organization and the custom is growing of devoting the chapter meetings to the presentation of clinical cases and scientific papers with discussion.

Public addresses by distinguished physicians, are given each year under chapter auspices.

There are forty-one active chapters representing nearly all of the institutions of the highest rank in Canada and the U.S. and it is only to those attaining such rank that charters will be granted.

LOUISVILLE MUNICIPAL COLLEGE

Louisville Municipal College was founded on February 9, 1931 with an original enrollment of eighty-three. The College quickly grew, not only in enrollment but also in the number of academic departments. By 1933, the student had a wider choice of subjects because of the addition of the departments of Geography, Library Science, Psychology and Philosophy, and Sociology.

Official acknowledgment of the College's progress was soon made when the University of Kentucky accepted it as a junior college. As the school advanced, so did its recognition. In 1935 the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools approved it as a four year college with a B rating. Only one year later this same association raised the status of Louisville Municipal College to an A rating.

June 1951 marks the closing of the College.

The campus of Louisville Municipal College consists of four buildings. Steward Hall accommodates the library, the offices, and the Social Science and Humanities Divisions. Parrish Hall houses the Natural Science Division. The Student Center, the Little Theater, and the recreation room are in the Student Building. The Intramural Building is equipped with a gymnasium and all necessary facilities for health and physical education.

MUSIC SCHOOL

The University of Louisville School of Music was founded in 1932. In March, 1947, the School acquired the estate, Gardencourt, a gift of the Norton family, making it one of the most beautifully housed schools in the country.

Many advantages are offered to students at Music School. Because the school is such an integral part of music in Louisville, students have an important role to play in the city's musical life. There are many opportunities for outside appearances; and also several advanced students have the privilege of playing in the Louisville Orchestra. For the past two years Moritz Bomhard has directed two highly successful student operas. In addition the orchestra, the chorus, the madrigal singers, and the string quartet provide excellent musical experience for the students. The Contemporary Music Festival, the Spring Chorus Program, and the Christmas Festival, held yearly at Music School, are eagerly awaited musical events.

DEAN DWIGHT ANDERSON

Dean of the School of Music and head of the piano department is Doctor Dwight Anderson, who is known as one of the outstanding piano teachers in the South. He studied at the Cincinnati Conservatory and did graduate work in New York and Paris.

Dr. Anderson was appointed Dean of the School of Music in 1937, and, in 1941, the Cincinnati Conservatory conferred upon him an honorary doctorate degree. In 1944 he added to his many duties that of music editor of the Courier Journal.

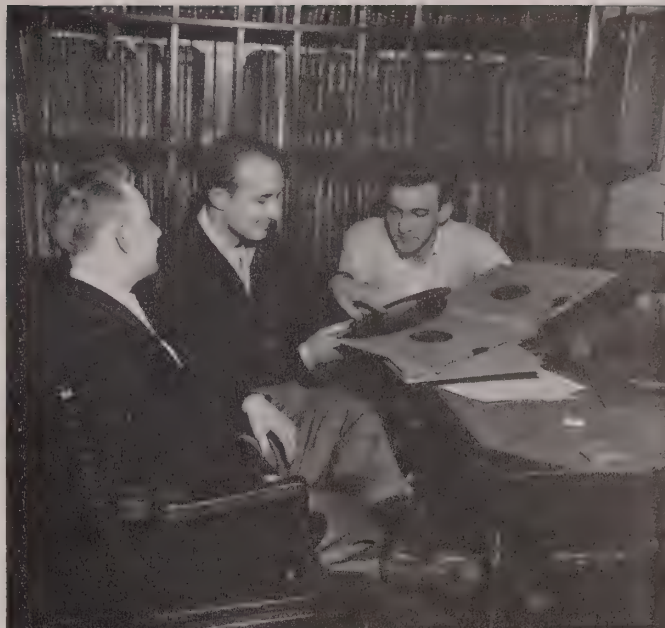

S CHOOL OF MUSIC

The total Gardencourt design is wonderfully suited to the activities of a music school. In the former residence are twenty-four rooms which are now used as recital halls, classrooms, studios, and offices. The former carriage house and gardener's cottage have been converted for the artists' needs. The great hayloft is now a Neo-Gothic studio, and the greenhouse echoes all day with the music of orchestral instruments.

The School's excellent record library is highly appreciated by both students and faculty members for classwork and listening enjoyment. A large collection of scores and books on music is available for reference and circulation.

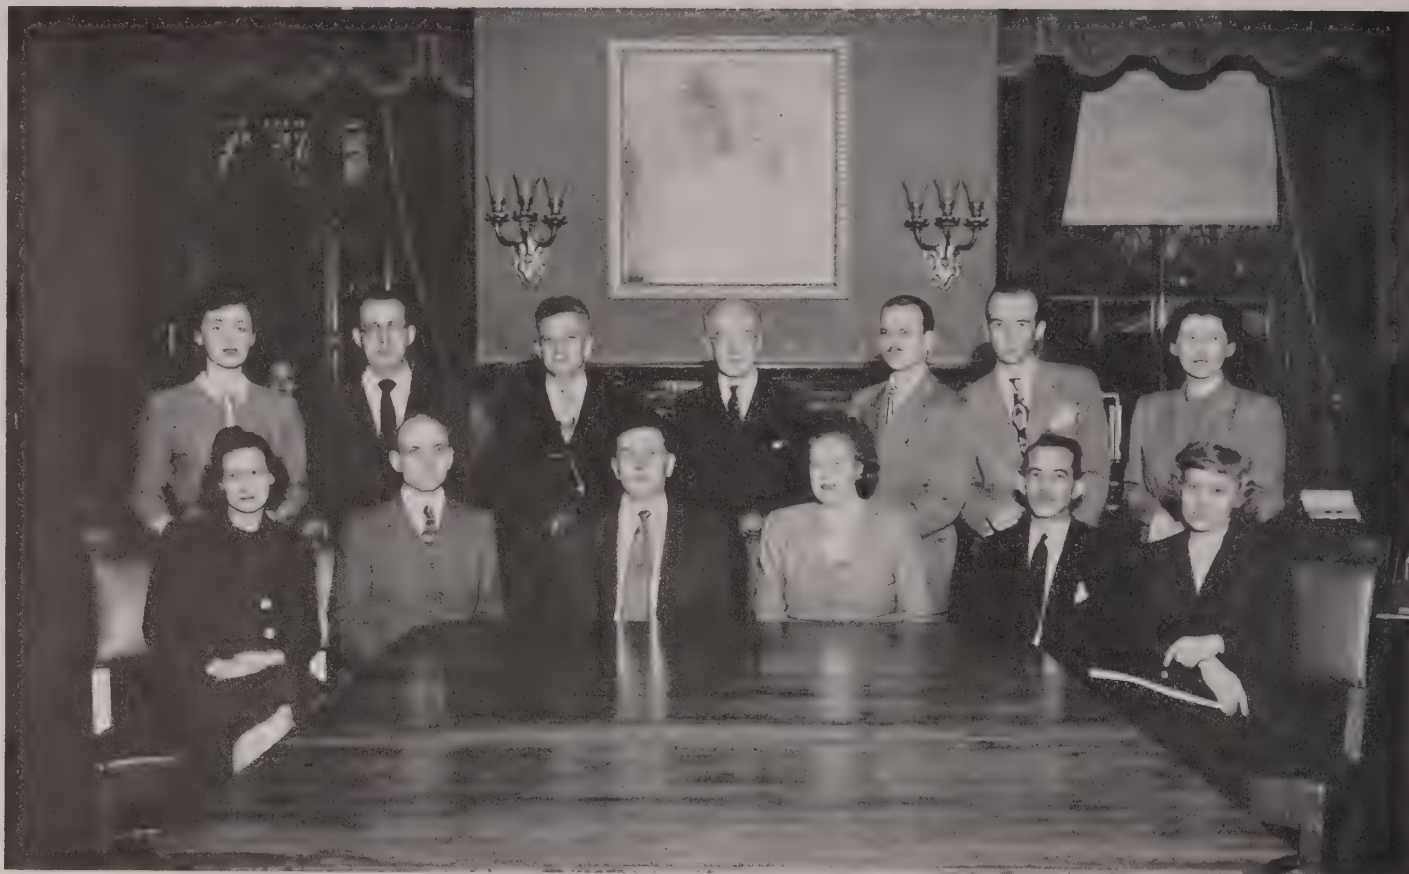

The Madrigal Singers, a group of sixteen, present approximately twenty performances each year throughout the state. Besides its excellent Christmas program, its repertoire ranges from fifteenth century madrigals to twentieth century a capella works.

Applied music lessons occupy much of the student's time; a minimum of three hours daily practice and two lessons weekly is required for an applied music major.

Because of the boundless energy and enthusiasm of Moritz Bomhard, guest director, and the hard work and ability of the casts, Music School's opera was able to celebrate its second birthday this year. Eleven weeks practice by the casts and the school orchestra materialized into a brilliant, artistic performance of the two comic operas. Singing the opera in English added to many listeners' enjoyment.

The acclaim received by Music School's performances of Puccini's "Gianni Schicchi" and Menotti's "The Old Maid and the Thief" was so enthusiastic that it prompted Moritz Bomhard, guest director, and the cast to take the productions on tour. Their successes at Valparaiso University, Ohio State University, Manchester, Indiana, and Ada, Ohio were as gratifying as the first nights on Belknap Campus.

DELTA OMICRON

Delta Omicron National Professional Music Fraternity was founded to create and foster fellowship, to develop character, to arouse and encourage the appreciation of good music among musicians in their student days.

To fulfill these aims, its members sponsor a monthly music program, an annual recital and tea, an annual scholarship, and many worthwhile civic projects. The social calendar for 1950 included a spring dance given in collaboration with Pi Kappa Omicron Band Fraternity.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

Sigma Alpha Iota National Music Fraternity is an organization whose purpose is to form chapters of music students and musicians who shall by their musical interest uphold the highest ideals of a musical education; to raise the standards of productive musical work among women students; to further the development of music in America; to give instruction and material aid to members and to organize the social life of its members as a contributing factor to their educational program.

S TUDENT COUNCIL

Music School's hard working Student Council has sponsored this year the appearances of Halsey Stevens, composer-lecturer, and the LaSalle String Quartet. They held regular beef sessions, composed a Christmas mailing list, and sponsored a student trip to Bloomington for Horowitz' performance there. Their social activities included a square dance, a Christmas tea, an informal dance and card party, and a Spring Formal.

SPEED SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL

Speed Scientific School, as it is today, is a monument to the benevolence of William S. Speed and his sister, the late Mrs. Frederick M. Sackett. Since its founding in 1925, Speed School has continually progressed to its present position as one of the leading e n g i n e e r i n g schools in the country. The class of 1951 feels justifiably proud of its connection with such a prominent school.

DEAN ROBERT CRAIG ERNST

Dean Ernst came to Speed School from the University of Minnesota in 1926 as Assistant Professor of Chemical Engineering. In 1947, Dr. Ernst succeeded Ford L. Wilkinson as Dean. In addition to his duties as Dean, Dr. Ernst acts as consultant for various industrial concerns and several Government Agencies. He also is President of the Institute of Industrial Research.

SPEED SCIENTIFIC SCHOOL

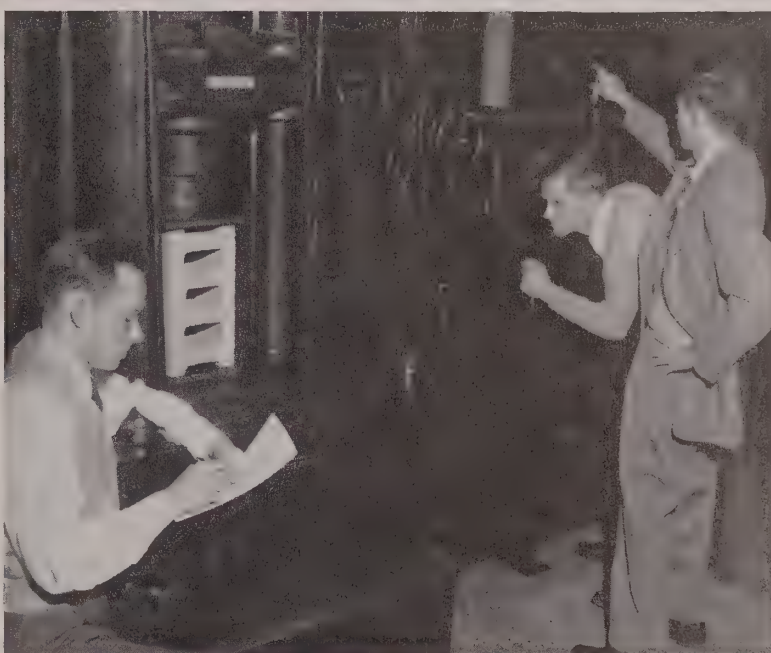

The Main Speed Building is one of the three buildings that constitutes Speed School. It houses the administrative offices, the library, and the Department of Chemical Engineering. The Mechanical Engineering Department is located in Sackett Hall, and Brigman Hall is occupied jointly by the Departments of Civil and Electrical Engineering.

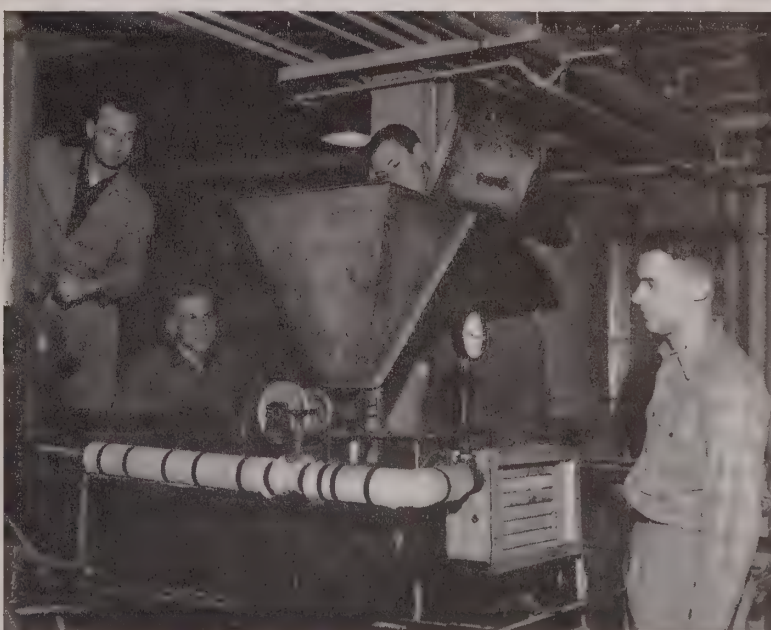

In the Mechanical Engineering laboratory, the horse-power developed by the steam engine is measured.

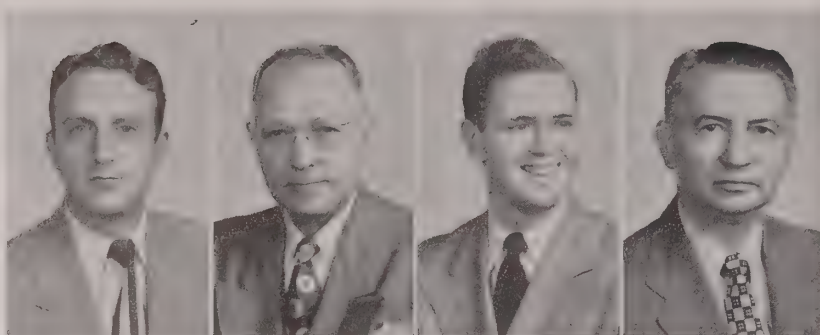

The strength of engineering materials of construction is determined in the "busting lab".

Chemical Engineering students study the operation of units used in chemical industries.

SERTA OF LOUISVILLE

We must pass pretty stiff exams, too

Not only the tractors we build must pass a rigid test . . .

We have a "board of examiners" which tests the merits of all the operations of our company.

That "board" consists of our employees, our customers, and our stockholders—the three groups which have a primary interest in our business.

We believe it is to the benefit of the entire social order that we operate our company in the best interests of these three groups.

We believe our customers deserve the very best product we can manufacture at the lowest possible price. Our employees are entitled to steady employment, good working conditions, and the highest possible income consistent with the economics of the business. Our stockholders should have a reasonable return on the capital they invest in our business. Our constant purpose is to maintain a fair balance between these three groups.

In every college community in the country, one or more of these groups is represented. How well do our principles work out in practice?

TAKE EMPLOYEES. Since 1941 the number of IH employees has increased from 60,000 to 90,000

—an increase of 30,000 jobs. In the same period, the average straight time hourly earnings of our factory employees has increased 110.5%.

TAKE CUSTOMERS. Last year we produced a near record amount of goods and services. Customers benefited from the fact that our margin of profit on sales was one-fourth less than in 1941.

TAKE STOCKHOLDERS. They have had fair return on the savings they have invested in our Company. Dividends on common stock last year are equivalent to 5% of the book value, as compared with 4% in 1941.

TAKE THE COMPANY. Last year we had profits, after taxes, of 6½ cents from each dollar of sales. We believe most people regard this as a reasonable rate of profit.

We know it is our continuing ability to earn a reasonable profit that has made it possible for International Harvester in the past year to serve so many people—customers, employees, and stockholders—in great measure. Profits Mean Progress for everyone.

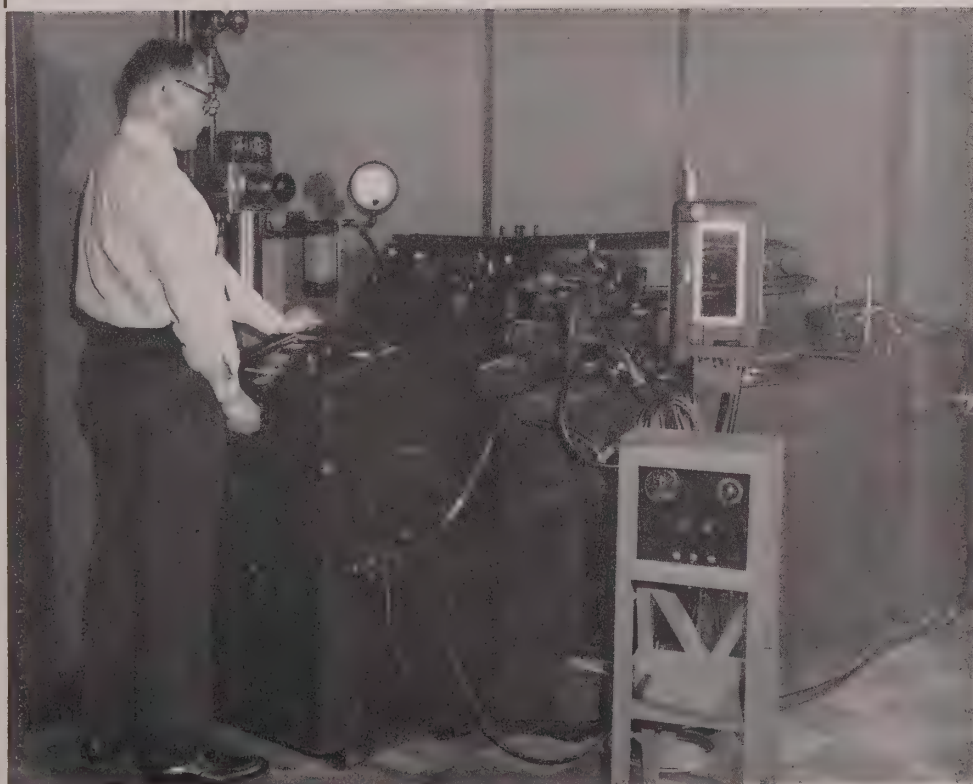

We hope to be able to continue this record with each succeeding year in the future.

INTERNATIONAL

LOUISVILLE WORKS

Spectograph, operated by a highly-trained technician, makes rapid quantitative analyses of metals in the Louisville Works Metallurgical Department. This helps assure the quality of Farm-all tractors. Equipment like this is why the company's investment in its Louisville plant is $60,000, 000—the largest in any Harvester manufacturing operation.

Welding Fittings and Flanges

From petroleum to penicillin, TUBE-TURN welding fittings are a vital part of industry's piping systems. Whether speeding the smooth flow of materials or withstanding tremendous pressures and temperatures with ease, Tube-Turn welding fittings—the fittings that become part of the pipe—are always dependable.

In the Petroleum Industry

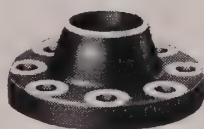

Piping systems equipped with pressure-resistant, temperature-resistant Tube-Turn welding fittings require minimum maintenance, have long-life dependability.

In the Chemical Industry

Tube-Turn welding fittings—in a wide range of metals and alloys—offer a readily available "stock" answer to difficult piping problems.

In the Power Industry

Tube-Turn welding fittings provide greater safety through superior forged-in strength and leak proof connections, give years of trouble-free, efficient operation.

Heating, Ventilating, Air Conditioning and Refrigeration

Piping systems equipped with Tube-Turn welding fittings are compact, weigh less, are easier to install, simple to insulate.

In all industrial piping systems, Tube-Turn seamless welding fittings and flanges—in over 4,000 different sizes and styles—represent savings in time, space, weight and money.

pulp tester, call button, etc. are on the accessory table or arm . . . making finger-tip convenience a fact . . . because they are always close to the field of operation, whether you are beside or in back of the chair, without needless reaching or stretching.
